

Ty Clevenger &lt;tyclevenger@gmail.com&gt;

---

RE: Anonymous letter

---

Ty Clevenger &lt;tyclevenger@gmail.com&gt;

Thu, Apr 9, 2015 at 8:59 AM

To: "McClendon, Kevin (USATXE)" &lt;Kevin.McClendon@usdoj.gov&gt;

The story below ran today in the Houston Chronicle. I also blogged about it yesterday (<http://lawflog.com/?p=723>). I'm told that the chief of the DA's appellate section, John Rolater, has been tasked with finding a way to shut me up. I'm not worried about that, but then I wouldn't mind if a couple of FBI agents paid a visit to Mr. Rolater and put the fear of God in him. Gayle Leyko is the ADA in charge of intake / grand jury, and I suspect she would be the first to crack. The first assistant, Bill Dobiyski, is a 24-year veteran of the office. He is loyal to the DA, but I doubt that he would risk his career to save the boss.

<http://www.houstonchronicle.com/news/politics/texas/article/Collin-County-grand-jury-wants-to-look-into-6188036.php>

On Wed, Apr 8, 2015 at 1:49 PM, McClendon, Kevin (USATXE) <Kevin.McClendon@usdoj.gov> wrote:

Mr. Clevenger.

I saw you called and want to update you. The FBI agent I sent your info to has forwarded it to a supervisor for assignment. I don't know who is assigned yet. I also sent the info to the IRS-Criminal Investigations. You may get a call from either the FBI or IRS regarding this.

Thanks, Kevin

---

From: Ty Clevenger [<mailto:tyclevenger@yahoo.com>]

Sent: Saturday, April 04, 2015 12:08 PM

To: McClendon, Kevin (USATXE)

Subject: Anonymous letter

Attached is FYI. I figured FBI might be interested in the real estate part.